Product Overview

GemFlex Standard Outlet Reducers are designed to maximize flexibility and efficiency in fire sprinkler installations and provide a reliable solution for connecting flexible drops in tight or challenging spaces. The optional short and long elbow reducers creates a smooth 90-degree transition, making it easier to route sprinkler connections where clearance is limited.

These fittings can be quickly removed and installed to adapt to changing system requirements without replacing the entire assembly, helping contractors reduce material waste and improve installation flexibility. Precision-engineered for a secure, leak-free connection between flexible drops and sprinkler heads, GemFlex reducers deliver dependable performance and long-term reliability.
